RALEIGH. N. C., SUNDAY MORNING, APRIL 6, 1873.

CASWELL COUNTY.-Caswell before designs, he ran off by a certain path that the war was the wealthiest county in the State according to population, and contained more slaves than any other of its size. It is exclusively a tobacco county and noted for the superior article of the plant raised. In New Orleans, Mos bile, Galveston, Memphis and other Southern cities, Caswell tobacco has a reputation fully equal to "Nash" brandy.

Caswell was the home and birth place of Hon. Jacob Thompson, a member of President Buchanan's Cabinet. It was fendant's counsel but strengthened that also the home of Bartlett Yancey, Marmaduke Williams, Bedford Brown, R. M. Saunders, and a host of other luminaries that won honor and distinction in the councils of the State and nation. It is also the home of John Kerr, of the offense as being unparalelled in Samuel P. Hill, Watt, Withers and the history of crime; he said he was others, that have held the very highest, positions in our State Council and the case exactly where it was. whose influence is now being used for the redemption of our State.

YANCEYVILLE

is the county seat, and is located immediately in the centre of the county, the court house being two hundred and twenty-five yards from the centre, fixed by actual survey. It has about 800 inhabitants, 6 stores, 2 tobacco warehouses for the sale of leaf tobacco, 3 churches, 2 schools, 1 coach factory, 2 hotels and 3 drinking saloons. The of the Court was light, as the able councourt house is decidedly the handsomest public building in the State (our State) capitol not even excepted) and cost more than any three court-houses in the State. Its internal arrangements are tar superior in style and finish, and the whole building seems to have been planned by a skillful hand, regardless of cost and expense. Well may the people of Caswell be proud of their Temple of Justice.

The argument was opened for the State by Mr. Solicitor Bulla, who briefly summed up the evidence before the jury, and commented upon the enormity willing, without further remarks to rest Messrs. Hill & Withers followed, and we must say made the ablest defense in a hopeless case we ever heard.

Hon. John Kerr closed the argument for the State. Comment upon his effort is unnecessary. Our readers well know what might be expected of Jno. Kerr in such a case. He spoke for nearly an hour.

The charge of the Judge was brief and to the point, stating that the duty sel on both sides had so well elucidated the entire matter. He would therefore charge them only upon what constituted the crime of rape, and what changes recent decisions of the Supreme Court had given it.

The case was given to the jury, who retired, and in three and a half minutes reported they had agreed upon a verdict.

Here, much interest was manifested by the densely packed audience, all eager to get a view of the doomed man's countenance as he heard from the foreman's lips, the awful word "guilty." We sat in a few feet from, and facing the prisoner. When he was ordered to stand up, he seemed to manifest only a slight interest in what was going on, nounced, not a muscle in his face changed, and not the slightest impression was made upon him that we could discover.

Thursday morning the prisoner was again brought forward to the bar of he court, followed by an immense crowd. The Court room .was crowded long before the hour of the opening of the Court, by an anxious audience, eager to hear the sentence of the Judge. Solicitor Bulla at 9:20 of

He left the Court room with a quick and lively step, and though followed by a large crowd of women, children and men, never exhibited the least discomposure.

POETICAL CORRESPONDENCE .- We find a letter from Raleigh under date of of Scio, in the Salisbury Watchman, which, if read aright according to the proper rhythm, will be found to contain rhyming in prose. We think we recognize the style as that of a distinguished divine of this city, himself an author of many sweet poems, who was once stationed at Salisbury. We copy the extract on account of its musical flow, and the graceful compliment it pays our Political Editor:

"RALEIGH, March 25, 1873.

Dear Watchman: I will write you a little if only I can, in the style of a regular newspaper man; except that your patience may hap I wil! tax, by rhyming a little in giving you facts; for I'm just heard the lecture of John G. Saxe; so the poetry ague comes on in attacks, betraying the lecture's abiding effects, on all who attended, regardless of sex. The audience was large yet very select. T'was larger by many than you would expect, in view of the rain and the indisposition, that exists where a fee is required for admission; for our people are not very likely you know, to go to expenses of a quarter or so, unless to attend on some sort of show. The poems recited were exceedingly fine, and it was an exceedingly favorable sign, that the audience seemed to be much entertained, and honored the speaker with tokens unfeigned. In justice and truth ne'ertheless I must state, that the style of the lecturer much did abate, the beauty and force of his excellent verse; his delivery was bad, still it might have been worse. If the lines I heard were as good as the rest, then the poems entire must be classed with the best. Well, I started to write either rhyming or prose, whichever in writing the letter I, chose; so I turn now to record, regardless of rhythm, the thoughts that flit through my mind on other persons and incidents. In connection with the poet-lecture, I must avow the pleasure I experienced in listening to the chaste and happy remarks of Capt. Williams. the DATES NEWS, in introducing Mr. Saxe. Young Mens' Christian Association last night, was arrested and taken to Ludlow street jail, on the charge of contempt of court in retaining some three thousand dollars he had been ordered to pay over to a woman in a bankrupt case.

Among the passengers saved from the Atlantic are S. W. Vick, North Carolina, and a Frenchman named Simon Camaichs, who had his legs badly frozen. They were in the rigging eight hours. Passengers report that from three to five hundred passengers in the Atlantic must have perished within ten minutes after the boat struck the second time.

In conversation with a reporter yes terday evening, at Halifax, Captain Williams said he spent most of Thursday night at Mars Hill, and personally examined bodies, but found none of them mucilated, but believed many bodies to have been robbed. He said the Atlantic was sufficiently coaled before leaving Liverpool, if it had not been for three days heavy weather experienced. We were out of our position solely on account of the current which must have had a northerly set, as well as westerly, and he allowed 8 degrees eastward to offset it, believing that to be ample. On Monday he was quite sure of his position, both barometers agreeing, but the northerly set proved greater than allowed for. For two or three days preceding he had found the ship set to the southward

All the leads and lines were in order, but they had not been used, not deeming them necessary. He considered officer Metcalf in charge of the deck at the time of the disaster and thoroughly competent for the duty.

FREEDOM OF THE PRESS.

When several ineffectual efforts were made by Solicitor Cantwell last Fall, to indict the Journal for libel, at New Hanover Superior Court, the RALEIGH News sounded the tocsin of alarm, and denounced this effort to cripple and muzzle the influence of the press in strong, unmeasured terms.

Not because the Editors of the Wilmington Journal are our personal friends servative newspaper -- not because Cantsincere purpose to vindicate the freedom ladiums of Republican liberty, to preserve and protect the rights, privileges and immunities the FOURTH ESTATE from the sacriligious hands that would strike down its power, its usefulness and its independence, we have protested from the first against this persecution-conceived, as we believe it to be, in the bitterness of party spirit, and carried on with the malignancy and unscrupulousness of political hatred and venom. If it be the purpose of these two par tisan officials to cripple or impair the influence of the Journal, or to damage it in its business, they will tail most signaily. The very means by which they would injure it will tend to build it up -to advance its prosperity, by adding to its subscription lists and enlisting the sympathy and efforts of its friends in its behalf.

If it be the purpose of these two partisan officials to break down the Journal, because it is a Conservative newspaper, and because it has the boldness and independence to speak out plainly and fearlessly, and to give forth no uncertain sound in criticising the conduct of corrupt and unworthy officials, then the effort will be equally futile and abortive.

If it be the purpose of these two partisan officials to crush the spirit of a free press, the effort will prove a stilly and unprofitable undertaking, and will recoil upon the heads of the weak and snort-sighted individuals, who have the vanity to imagine their puny arms can strike down one of the strongest bulwarks of civil liberty-one of the proudest monuments of true Republican Government.

The spirit of party hate, malice and vindictiveness cannot extinguish it. Neither political fury and madness, nor personal vengeance and spite, nor the mailed hand of military power, can destroy its influence or trample down its spirit.

So long as we have freedom of thought and of speech, we feel there is paper in the State will speak out. some hope for the preservation of the people's liberties. But without a pure, fearless, incorruptible, unpurchasable public press, Republican Governments can not long flourish or exist. They will become a prey to corrupt rulers and tyrants-and will perish miserably at the hands of their own citizens.

A London boy crept into the furnacebox of an engine the other night and fell asleep. The stoker, knowing nothing about it, threw in some burning coke, and the boy was so badly burned that he died.

THE CAUSES OF THE LOSS OF THE ATLANTIC.

The Northern papers are filled with particulars concerning the scenes and incidents connected with the sad fate of the Atlantic.

Of course, the officers and owners of the vessel are denounced in unsparing terms on account of their carlessness, their criminal mismanagement, their greed for gain, their heartlessness, and so on ad nauseam.

Of course, an investigation is demanded; as is usual in all cases of Railroad and Steamboat disasters.

Of course some body is to be held to rigid accountability and some other body is to be made an example of, to prevent the sacrifice of human life hereafter.

All this sort of talk we must expect and is necessary, we, presume, to pander to the feelings and honest indignation of the masses of readers, who pour over the detailed accounts of the many heart-rending scenes with sad hearts and tearful eyes.

Capt. Williams, commander of the Atlantic-poor, unfortunate fellow, s told that it were better he had died on the vessel's deck attempting to save one human being-than live and be made responsible for the sad calamity.

The cause of the Atlantic's disaster is attributed to three things: the want of a sufficient supply of coal, the misdirection of its course, and the mis shapen style of the vessel's architecture.

The vessel saited on the 20th of March. On the 1st of April, only ten days afterwards, it was short of coal, and put in at Halifax for the purpose of getting -not because the Journal itself is a Con- a fresh supply. The deficiency of coal seems to be the real cause of the acciwell is a Radical Solicitor, nor because dent. A HANDSOME COMPLIMENT. EIGH NEWS, we have not received a compliment which we appreciate more highly than the following in the Spirit of the Age of the 5th inst. # ROBBING THE DEAD-CAPT. VICK'S ESCAPE.

Efforts are being daily made to re cover the bodies of the passengers who perished in the wreck of the Atlantic. Many of the bodies that have been found were robbed. Capt. Vick, of this State, and a Frenchman who escaped with him, were in the rigging eight hours. The Frenchman had his legs badly frozen.

We copy from the Battleboro' Advance of the 4th inst:

"We are astonished at the tame spirit exhibited by the press of North Carolina on a subject of vital importance, not only to themselves but to the whole country. We allude to the recent attack on the Wilmington Journal, under the garb of a "libel suit," by Edward Cantwell, Radical Solicitor of the 4th Judicial Circuit. We have already, in the columns of this paper, characterized the conduct of this official and his instigators as we thought the outrage upon the press and jury required.

For simply criticising the conduct of an officer of the Government as the Editors of that paper thought it deserved, and in much milder terms than his conduct had been commented on by the The voice of a free press cannot be press near his own home, this Solicitor has pursued those Editors with a vengeance-like spirit from the grand jury room of New Hanover to the county of Bladen, in such a manner as to deserve the severest condemnation from every

We understand from good authority that one of the most distinguished lawyers and statesmen of North Carolinaone whose able and eloquent voice is always on the side of humanity and civil liberty, Edward Conigland, Esq., has tendered his professional services in detence of Messrs. This noble and unselfish conduct on the part of Mr. Conigland, is in full keeping with his lofty reputation and will add still more to the "full measure of his fame."

SPAIN.

Figueras, to encourage the gloomy hopes of the Republicans, declares there is no crisis in the Spanish ministry, and says the situation of affairs is better Facts are stubbon things. The Republic of Spain is a myth. It will fade away in anarchy and civil war.

The Illinois Legislature is considering the following joint resolution: That without regard to politics or party ties, we do most emphatically place the seal of our condemnation upon our Senators and Representatives in Congress from this State, who by their own vote increased their own pay to $7,500 per annum, and took a bonus of $5,000 for services already rendered, and we further condemn the President of the United States for signing the bill by which they were enabled to realize the increased pay and his own salary increased by $25,000."

It has been so extensively used and universally praised that it requires no commendation at our hands. The Cotton Planters using it affirm that it matures the Cotton earlier by Several Weeks, and nearly dcubles the yield. Many say it is equaled by no manipulated Guano on the market; and prefer it for many reasons to the Peruvian

There will be only a limited amount of this Fertilizer manufactured especially for our supply and trade, and we desire that the Cotton Planters in the section of country tributary to this market, should FIRST BE SUPPLIED, with what they may need. After supplying the needs of the Planters, in the region named, the remainder, if any over, will go to fil, the orders of the trade a, large, throughout the wide district of territory

Some of the ingredients for this Fertilizer, the "Southern Fertilizing Company" had to import from Germany at a great cost, and this stock had to be laid in and prepared beforehand. The Company, therefore, required us to inform them at the beginning of the season, the probable amount our trade would require, which we did accordingly and we feel confident from the numerous inquiries and large orders received that the demand will far exceed our stock, or ability to supply, and therefore we bespeak our Planter friends to send in their orders at once, (that we may book them, and thereby give them the preference,)-and then, they can order the Fertilizer to be shipped to them whenever they need it.

The Fertilizer will cost the Planter no more to order it early in the season. Time Price $65, Free of Interest—Cash Price $60-at our Warehouse in Norfolk. It is put up in new, strong bags of 200 ibs to the pag. "FIRST COME, FIRST SERVED," is the old adage. A Church Panic-Terrible Result of a False Alarm.

We have heretofore alluded to the panic which occurred in St. John's Church, at Trenton, N. J., during the obsequies of Rev. Father Mackin, result ing from a false alarm, but the following particulars of the affair will be found interesting :

ound interesting:
Ten o'clock was the hour appointed, but before that hour arrived, the edifice was literally packed. The remains were dressed in sacerdotal robes, and were exposed to view in a rich casket, set on a catafalque. Around this casket filed the crowd that visited the church during the morning, and at ten o'clock hundreds were yet coming. The assistant pastor, Father Fitzsimmons, appeared on the altar at ten minutes past ten, and announced that as the time had arrived for the commencement of the ceremonies, no more persons would be admitted to view the remains.

A few minutes after this announcement a crash was heard, followed by a cry on one side, "The gallery is falling!" and on another, "Fire!" The scenes which followed will never be forgotten. That which was a dense mass of devout and decorous humanity suddenly became a surging, moaning, yelling, furious throng. Old Ocean is never disturbed in his slumbers by the most violent squall but some harbinger warns him of its approach. Here, on the contrary, the cause and the effect were almost simultaneous. There was an awful significance in this tumult. In the midst of it lay the lifeless form of the pastor, who had passed the threshold of this life, and it seemed as if many of his beloved flock were about to join him in his eternal home. The terrors of the grave stared hundreds of the vast gathering in the face. In the wild excitement of the moment the hallowed precints of the sanctuary were not respected, and the line which divides the priest from the laity was crossed by those of the congregation who despaired of fleeing the dreaded event by any other avenue of escape.

The priests rushed out from the saco. Mitchell, colored, escaped from risty, and while some ascended the altar and endeavored to quell the rising storm, others exerted themselves in the aisles by mingling with the excited crowd, to calm the fears of those with whom they came in contact. But their efforts were unavailing. In less time than it takes to write these lines the surging mass, rushing out at the main entrance, was trampling down women and children, and but little assistance could be afforded from the outside, for the rush was irresistible. From every window men and boys were jumping. The cries of those in the centre of the church who could not escape were heartrending. Not even the presence of Dr. Corrigan, Bishop-elect, of New Jersey, could for one moment stay the panic. Down the steps leading from the main entrance to the sidewalk people were being piled as if a battery of grape and canister had suddenly opened

We give below a few extracts from communications of correspondents in various localities of country to the daily newspapers—reporting the voluntary, con-cordant commendations of the Cotton planters relative to the action of the Cot-ton Fertilizer, and the high repute in which it is held by the planters, as matter of pub-lic interest and benefit—writing from the spot and giving the free, ebullient lauda-tions of the whole people, who had tried and seen its effects, many of whom are the best men, and most successful farmers in North Carolina and Virginia. From the Raleigh Sentinel, of Aug. 14th, we make the following extract:

* * * * "In conclusion allow me to speak of the favorable impression among our excellent farmers created by Gilham's Cotton Fertilizer. No section of the State can produce such cotton farmers as Edgecombe, and many of them say this Cotton Fertilizer is equal, and some of them say superior, to reruvian. This is saving much for it, but if we are to be guided by the many crops around here, which show its excellencies, we have not accorded it too high praise. Nothing is more needed than a good fertilizer, and we inform our readers of the effects of this fertilizer, and the high opinion of it by the cotton planters in this section for the benefit of the farming interest throughout the State. est throughout the State,

"Most of the farmers who have used Gilham's Cotton Fertilizer say it is better, for many reasons, than Peruvian Guano. We were struck by the high repute in which this fertilizer is held by those who have used and are now using it, and the good opinion entertained, by those who have witnessed its effect under cotton. It is unquestionably very marked." questionably very marked."

From a communication from Whitakers to the Biblical Recorder we make the following quotation:

"On asking the farmer's opinion as to the manures, all who have used it pro-nounce the Gilham's Cotton Fertilizer the best, saying it stands dry weather better best, saying it stands dry weather better than the Peruvian, is equal to it in every respect, surpassing it in some, with due ac-cord express their intention of using it again. JOHN H. POWELL, Esq.:

DEAR SIR—The Soluble Sea Island Guano purchased of you this season was used by the side of three others, and has given me more satisfaction than any of the others. The Soluble Sea Island Guano was the one used upon the acre of land upon which my son raised the cotton upon which he took his State premium for the greatest amount of cotton te an acre; and I am informed by the Chairman of the Committee that had be entered for the largest amount of cotton to the acre, premiums open te all ages, he would have also taken that premium, beating all 150 lbs. I am better pleased with it than any other Guano I have ever used on cotton, and I shall use it in preference to others next season for my cotton crop.

Messrs. R. W. L. RAISIN & Co., Baltimore:

I bought of Messrs. Branch, Herbeit & Co., last Spring, one ton of your Soluble See Island Guano for myself and three tons for other parties, and I find them all well pleased with it, and say it is the best Guano, and paid them better than any they ever used. The ton I used myself was put in cotton by the side of two other guanos, and I am willing to say that I should buy the Soluble See Island Guano in preference to any that I have used since the war.

Very respectfully,

J. R. GREEN. J. R. GREEN.

SELMA, N. C., November 12th, 1872.

W. H. AVERA, Esq.:

DEAR SIR—The ten bags Soluble Sea Island Guano more than met my expectations
I consider it equal to Peruvian for cotton. It paid me over 100 per cent. I. more than doubled the crop. My neighbors who bought it are highly pleased, and will use it in preference to any other when it can be had. Hope you will keep a supply the coming Truly yours. R. HARE.

LOUISBURG, N. C., December 4th, 1872.

E. W. FULLER, Esq.:

DEAR SIR—I tested your Guano this year, and the result is, I will use it on my whole otton crop next year.

Yours, &c., Yours, &c., ELLIS MALONE.

To S. J. PARHAM:
The Soluble Sea Island Guano purchased of y. u was used on tobacco and cotton by either, and I observed a marked difference in favor of the Sea Island. Shall use in the

S. S. ROYSTER.

HENDERSON, Granvitle county. HENRY BURRELL, Esq., has stated to us that he made a test this present year sobacco crop, using two other higher-priced guanos, but 's convinced that the Soluh Sea Island Guano is the cheapest guano he has ever purchased, and shall use it again.

YANCEYVILLE, Caswell County, N. C. December 6th, 1872. Captain W. P. ROBINSON,

DEAR SIR—In reply to your inquiry as to how I liked the Sea Island Guano I got of you, I wish to say that I applied it, 200 pounds to the acre, alongside of Peruvian, Pacific Guano and Gilham's Tobacco Fertilizer in equal quantities; it stands the drouth better than either of the above fertilizers. It matured better on the hill and cured better and more yellow than either of the other fertilizers used. I think it is a splendid fertilizer and I expect to use it next season.

Yours, respectfully,

MARCELLUS MIMMS.

WILSON, N. C., January 11th, 1873. Messrs. HARRISS & BLACKWELL: GENTS—I used this season, on my cotton crops about 15 tons of your Soluble Sea Island Guano, testing it by the side of Guanape and Vegitator, and up to the time of the heavy washing rains last of June, I was equally pleased with its action as of the Guanape and better pleased than with the Vegitator.

LITERARY NOTES.

Mr. Paul H. Hayne sends to Appleton's Journal, a little poem by Henry Timrod, discovered among the poet's papers and not before published. "It seems to us," the editor says, "instinct with a delicate grace, which entitles it to rank, among the best of the poet's quieter verses." It is entitled

A TRIFLE.

I know not why, but ev'n to me My songs seem sweet, when read to thee;

Perhaps in this the pleasure lies— I read my thoughts within thine eyes;

And so dare fancy that my art May sink as deeply as thy heart.

Perhaps I love to make my words Sing round thee like so many birds;

Or maybe they are only sweet, As they seem offerings at thy feet.

Or haply, Lily! when I speak, I think, perchance, they touch thy cheek Or, with a yet more precious bliss, Die on thy red lips in a kiss.

Each reason here-I cannot tell, Or all, perhaps, may solve the spell, But if she watch, when I am by,

Lily may deeper see than I!

Curious Telegraphing.

The performer of the following exploit described it in a recent lecture at Chicago: On March 2, 1868, a train on the Bennington and Portland Railroad was snow-bound about three-tourths of a mile from Shaitsbury. The weather was intensely cold; there were no provisions on the train; fuel was nearly exhausted; night was approaching, and the situation began to look desperate Mr. Hill's two small children were with them, and one of them, too young to be fed with arguments clamored for something better. The superintendent of the road, Mr. F, C White, was on the train, but, strange to say, the snow wouldn't clear the tracks tor a railroad king. In his helplessness he was entirely at a loss for any means of relief, until Captain Hills, without instrument of any kind except the wire on the poles, proposed, nevertheless, to telegraph to Rutland. The superintendent was incredulous, but Captain H. quickly cut the wire, and communi cated with the officers of the road at Rutland, by merely striking the ends of the wire together, thus making and breaking the telegraphic circuit as he could have done with the key of an ordinary operating instrument. An engine was immediately sent to the relief of the blockaded train. But the entire operation required the reception as well as the sending of messages. This was the crucical test of Captain Hill's ingenuity, skill and nerve, and until this was accomplished the superintendent and passengers felt no assurance that the. message sent had been intelligibly communicated to the officers at Rutland. Striking his wires together follows: "Trouble. Answer slowly. I am working without and instruement; I will receive your answer through my tongue." He touched the frosty wire to his tongue, with the same result, at first, as that enjoyed by the boy who undertook to lick the frost from his skate-steel, but found that the steel knew more about licking than he did. The wire wouldn't 'let go until it was warmed, and then kindly took the skin and carried into the car, After it was warmed, Captain H. received the messages by putting one end of the wire above, and the other under his tongue, and letting the electric current pass through it, when he was able to read by the succession of sharp and somewhat painful electrical shocks. His success was perfect, and he not only sent and received messages for the superinten. dent, but for several of the passengers. The only ill consequence of the exploit was the total loss of taste which Captain H. suffered for several days atterwards.

he wrote to the operator at Rutland as

W. C. STRONACH,

HOSIERY, GLOVES, &C.

Calculated by Dr. Craven, and compiled by L. Branson, printed on fine-sized and calendered paper, neatly and elegantly. It contains many useful recipes, much valuable statistical matter, and many items. It is emphatically an AGRICUL-TURAL ALMANAC. It is different from every other Almanac; has been published a number of years and sold successfully.— It is, we think, certainly as good if not better than any other. A few still on hand—order soon, L. BRANSON, Bookseller, dec 20-tf Raleigh, N. C.
